By illustrating our kinship with Berwyn, the center of our attention, Illinois, our backyard, the United States, a mirror of our past, the Earth, our ultimate home, and the Mind of God, the final tie which connects us to all existence, TALON 1975 shows that we have a special place in creation — OUR SPOT.

Theresa,
I'm really glad I got to know you. We had some good times. Maybe he will have short hand together, wouldn't that be fun? I dare a fantastic summer and stay as nice as you are I'll see you around next year, maybe you'll be between me and Donnie again. Good luck!
Love,
Kathy Ballock (447-5623)

Dear Theresa,
It was fun having you in typing.
we had some fun times. Have a nice

Dear Theresa,
It has been a nice year, we have gone through hell and many other things with this school. Think; next year we just have to have bigger and better parties, see you around and give me a call in the summer. Love ya, Dady

Dear Theresa,
We've had a nice time this year. Making fun of her "head" and calling her hairstyle "little tornadoes."
I hope you have a nice summer and make sure to catch all the rays.
Take care and maybe (if you're lucky)
I'll give you a call sometime.
Love always,
Angie

Theresa,
So we've only got one more year to go. I'm really glad I got to know you this year. You're a real sweet kid so stay that way. Maybe I'll have you in short hand again next year. If not I'll see you in the halls. Wish you luck in everything you do. Have a great summer.

Classes Incorporate New Absence, Tardy Systems

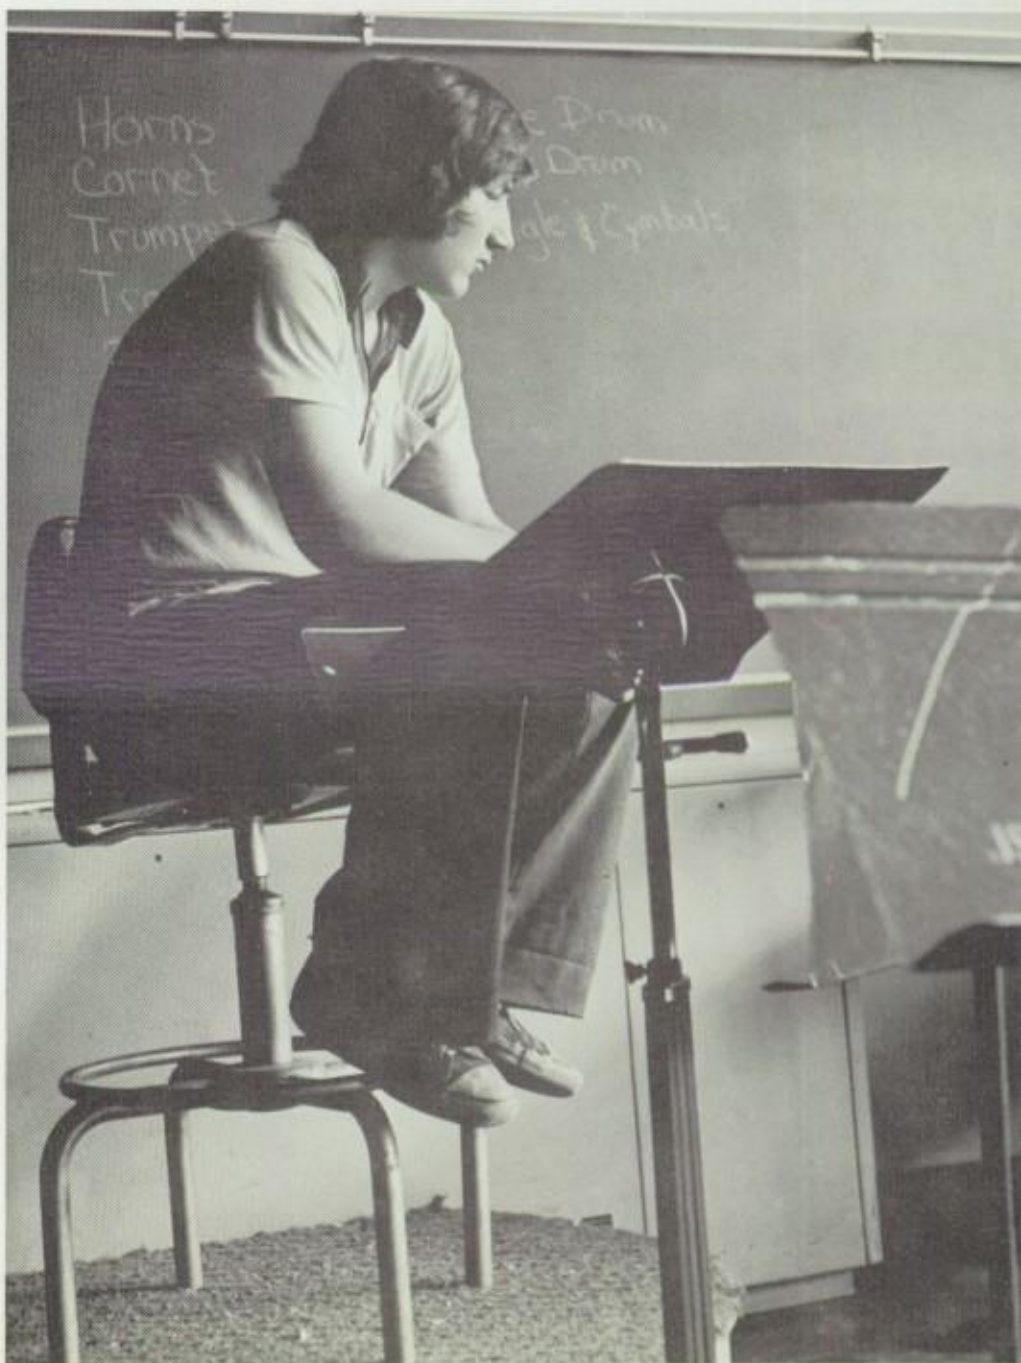

Although many changes occurred throughout the school, few changes pertained to the inside of the classroom. One important change, however, was the increased number of students assigned to several of the courses. In hope of better organizing the larger classes, a new computer card absence system was devised. This new system saved time and proved more accurate than the old one. In addition the larger class size seldom stopped a class from starting promptly on time. A new tardy system consisted of a student's filling out a small blue card which would be turned into the deans' office at a later time. This system eliminated wasting class time.

Building of C-Hall Stairs Helps Relieve Congestion

This year the Morton halls benefited from some needed repairs and changes. After many years of the hopeful idea of adding an extra stairway, the much needed C-Hall stairway made its appearance. The new stairway helped relieve the heavily congested B-Hall stairway and also provided a better access to the outside in case of fire for the upstairs classrooms. New fire doors also added to fire safety. New treading appeared on existing stairs to provide better safety in the winter months when the stairs became excessively slippery. "What is that you're carrying?" was the question many students asked when they discovered the new oversized hall passes at Morton.

Student Council Assists UNICEF with Dress-up

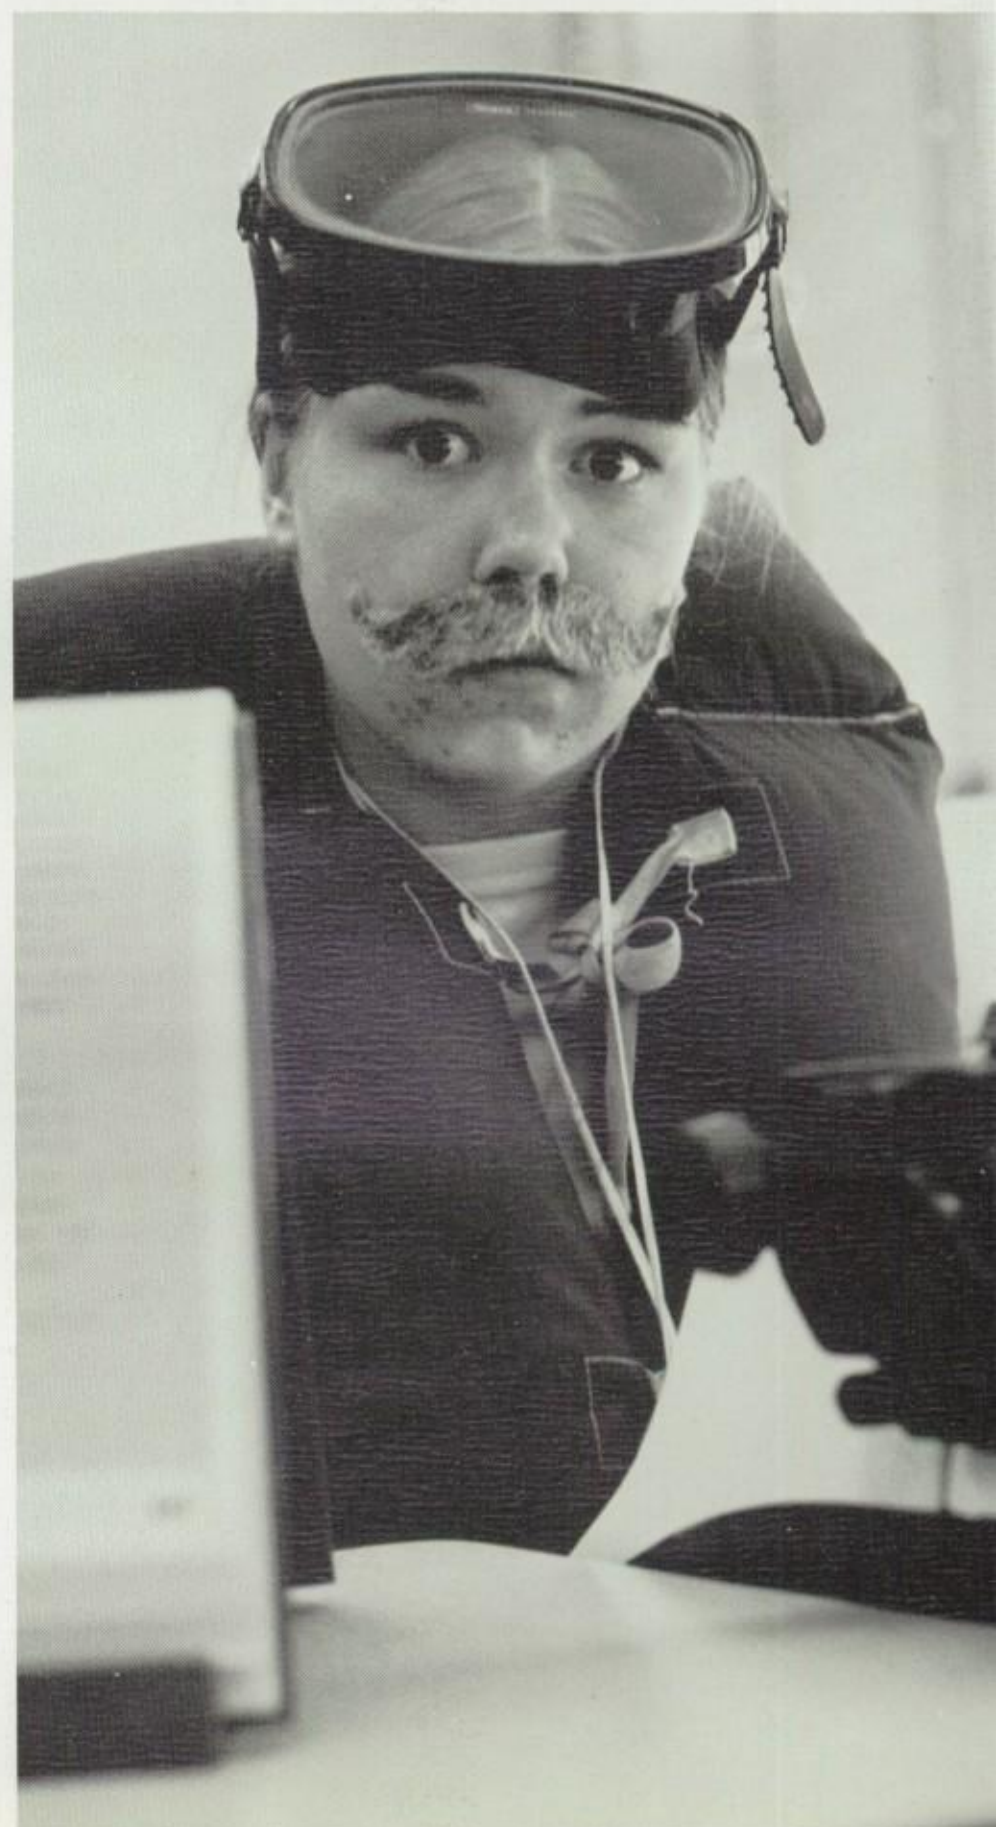

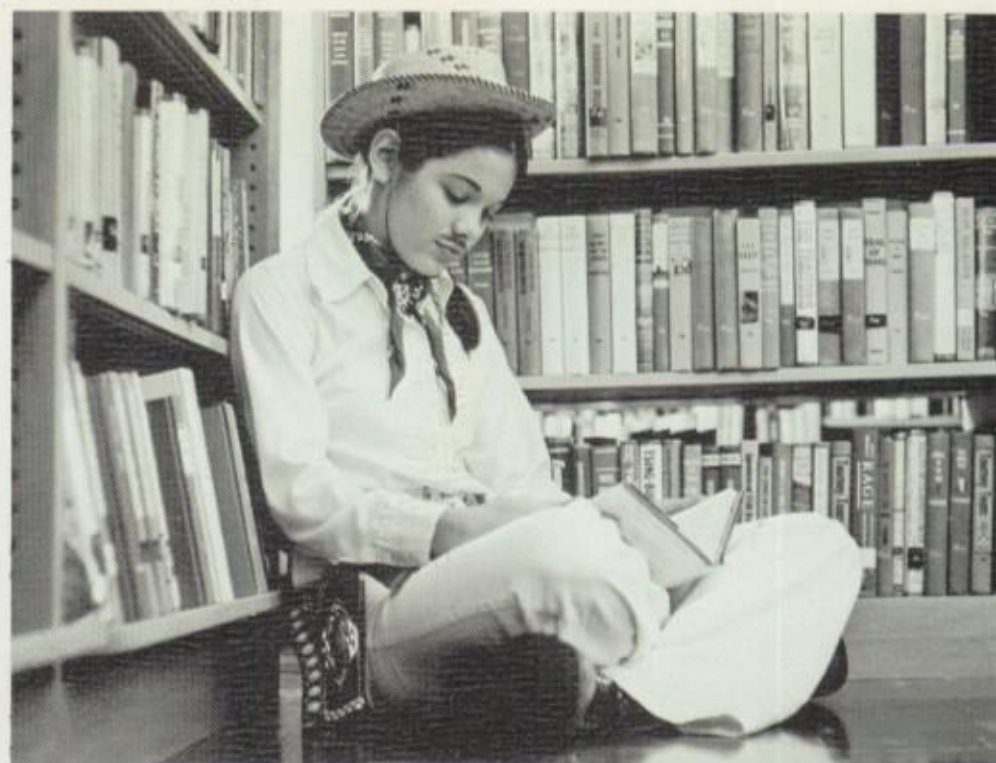

Last spring on a June evening, parents, relatives, and friends of 612 graduates assembled in the boys' gymnasium to observe an important school event, the 1974 graduation ceremony. This year Student Council sponsored two large, all school events. On Halloween the council organized a dress-up day. Tickets were sold to each student who adorned himself in a costume; the money was then turned over to UNICEF which used it to help needy children. Also the Student Council sponsored the annual Junior Olympics. Winners of the contests accumulated points, and the Senior Class's acceptance of first place drew the long evening of school and class spirit to an end.

Signs of Change—Trees, Flowers, C-Hall Walkway

Over the summer months the school campus enjoyed many improvements contributed by students and the maintenance staff. In the front of the school, flowers blossomed in existing flower beds which had remained empty in the previous year. Tree sapplings appeared throughout the campus to enhance the school's beauty. Also the existing fencing, surrounding the school, received repairs and a new coat of paint to improve the school's appearance. Cement work was another aspect of improvement on the campus for safety and convenience. Speed bumps in the parking lot prevented cars from exceeding the speed limit. The new C-Hall walkway provided added convenience.

With the high cost of gas, many students (above) found motorcycles to be a less expensive means of transport.

Awaiting her opponent's serve, Cathy Chaberski (right) of the girls' tennis team readies herself for a return.

Many multicolored marigolds and other assorted blossoming flowers (left) were new additions this year to the Morton West campus.

During the early morning rush hour, students (below) arrive at school on foot, by bus, and by private automobiles, motorcycles, and bicycles.

Cowboys, Indians Invade Homecoming Day Events

Students assembled in the auditorium to await the coronation of this year's homecoming queen Sue Ianniccari. This scene was the start of a week's events. The evening's entertainment was supplied by various clubs and students. The following Friday an all school assembly helped boost the students' school spirit for the following day. Homecoming day began with the parade in which floats built by various clubs and classes followed the theme of the "Wild, Wild West." Large crowds gathered at the afternoon's football games when the varsity team defeated Downers Grove South 12 to 6. The day drew to an end with couples gathering at the dance "Sunsets Are for Dreaming."

Three Morton Girls Win In Junior Miss Contest

Students not only became involved in school events this year but also in many of the local communities' as well. Many students worked in stores and offices to help promote youthful ideas throughout the local area. Girls involved themselves in serving the sick at MacNeal and Community Hospitals by volunteering their time as candy strippers. Last fall several Morton girls entered the Junior Miss and Houby Queen Contests in which their talent, physical and mental abilities, and poise were judged to determine the winning girl for the respective contest. This year's winners in the Junior Miss Contest who attended Morton were Monica Dobes, Joyce Gab, and Cathy Persin.

Second Place Finish for West on 'It's Academic'

Morton's events often took students beyond West's district limits. Dressed in gowns and tuxedos, couples attended the Junior-Senior Prom, "Just You and Me," at the Chicago Sheraton. They enjoyed a pleasant evening of dancing to the music of two separate bands and received five color portraits as a remembrance of the evening. Also in Chicago three Morton West students, Tony Molinaro, John Skoubis, and Peter Stastny, competed as a team on "It's Academic"; they unfortunately finished in second place. In Cicero at the Morton East auditorium, students from both Morton schools combined their artistic talents in several performances of Fiddler on the Roof.

Freshman Classes Gain Reading, Writing Ability

Generally, the English Department found 1974-75 to be a year of evaluation for its courses. The department completely renovated the freshman curriculum to include a heavy emphasis on developing writing skills as well as instruction in the reading lab once a week for each class. The assignment of five full-time reading teachers served to broaden the reading program. The department worked to revise the sophomore English curriculum for the 1975-76 year. It also entered its final proposal for the junior-senior elective program and a revision of those courses at the end of the year. This program expanded with the addition of the individual in American literature, modern American literature, and literature of periodicals courses to its other electives.

Pupils Publicize Value of Taking Foreign Language

Throughout the year, the Foreign Language Department publicized the value of learning a foreign language. This publicity resulted from a drop in enrollment in all foreign language classes. No third or fourth year Italian classes existed this year. Mrs. M. Gamboa taught third and fourth year Spanish classes at the same time. To boost enrollment, foreign language students broadcasted the benefits of studying a foreign language with presentations to English classes, stressing that career possibilities were numerous for bilingual people. Mr. W. Ritis replaced Mr. J. Leckel, who left to concentrate his efforts on East's Language Arts, as department head of West's Language Arts.

Mrs. M. Heinz (above, right) explains an important Czech assignment to Kathy Mach. Mrs. Heinz taught only one Czech class this year as enrollment in the foreign languages continued to drop.

Freshmen Skip Algebra, Enter Geometry Classes

Having completed the algebra requirements in eighth grade or in summer school, over thirty freshmen skipped the class and enrolled in geometry. Never in Morton's history have so many freshmen qualified for sophomore math. All math classes expanded their fields of study to include a unit in computer programming. Last year's purchase of a computer allowed this addition to become effective. Mrs. L. Hruby wrote a unit for computer use in her geometry classes. The algebra and advanced algebra classes replaced their old books with new ones. Mr. M. Harmon assumed the position of acting department head when Mr. R. Lindhorn left the Math Department on sabbatical leave.

Students, Faculty Visit University Open Houses

Although overall enrollment in the science courses remained the same as last year, general science enrollment increased by thirty per cent, and physics enrollment increased by fifteen per cent. Somewhat balancing these increases, enrollment in introductory physical science decreased by twenty-five per cent. Physics students visited the University of Illinois, Champaign-Urbana, for the engineering open house. Advanced biology and advanced chemistry students attended the open house at Hope College. Two biology students attended the convocation with Dr. M. DeBakey at Northwestern University. Miss P. Nakayama, Miss M. Ripple, and Mrs. P. Licht attended a field study course on the prairie.

Social Science Program Offers Twelve Courses

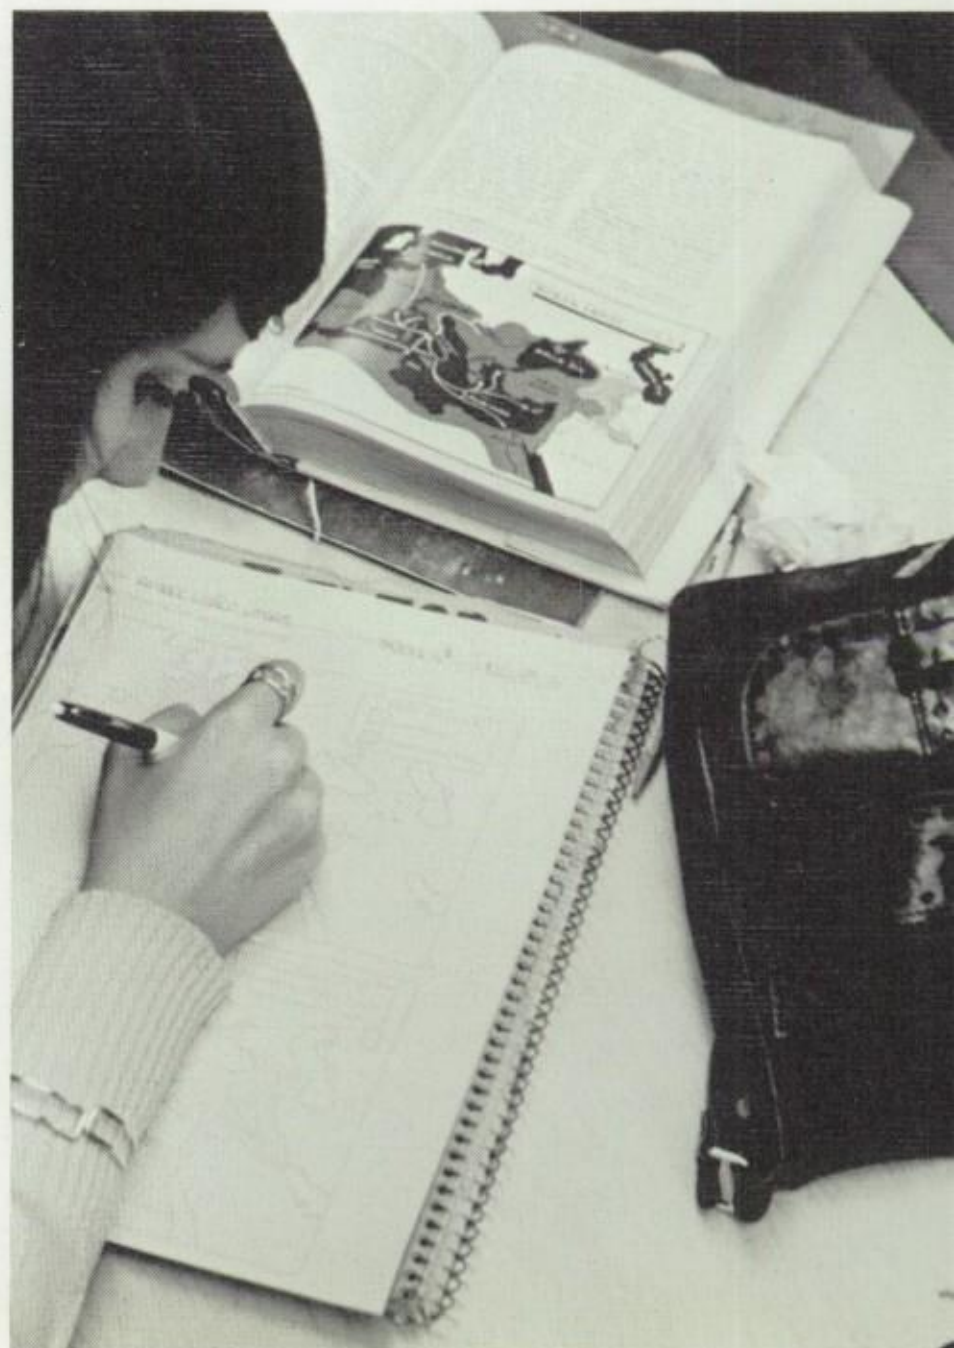

With the addition of current history, the Social Science Division offered twelve classes. Mrs. R. Princ, the division head, worked closely with the library and Audio-Visual Department to develop the course. Instead of textbooks, the students used more current literature such as newspapers and magazines. The course stressed individualized instruction. Meanwhile a lack of enrollment dropped non-western history from the curriculum. Mrs. Princ sadly stated, "I personally viewed the class to be our outstanding course." Psychology and economics classes had new books to replace outdated ones. Appearances by Edward Hanrahan and Henry Hyde, candidates for Congressional Sixth District representative, highlighted the department's guest speaker program.

Pottery Students Fire Clay with New Gas Kiln

Pottery classes enjoyed the use of a new gas fire kiln this year. With it, students dried their clay and thereby solidified their works. The Art Department also bought new glazes for the pottery class and purchased equipment for the newly formed class in the fiber arts. Photography's increased enrollment enjoyed a new ventilation system in the photo lab. The department, however, dropped the humanities class from the curriculum because of poor enrollment. The class had been struggling in recent years, and this year it lost its struggle for survival. Art students displayed their best works in November, February, and spring art exhibits in the main foyer of the school.

Orchestra Accompanies Christmas Choral Music

Morton's bands provided music for many school and community functions. They performed for four football games, six basketball games, four assemblies, and the homecoming parade. They also played for the Houby Day Parade and delighted area civic organizations on several occasions. According to band director Mr. J. Frantik, "Much of our job is school service oriented." The choral program suffered from an insufficient amount of male voices. Hour conflicts between choral and other courses forced some male students to drop choir. The orchestra presented two concerts as well as providing musicians for the Morton Chamber Orchestra. It also supplied accompanists for parts of the Christmas choral concert.

New State Requirement Crowds Business Rooms

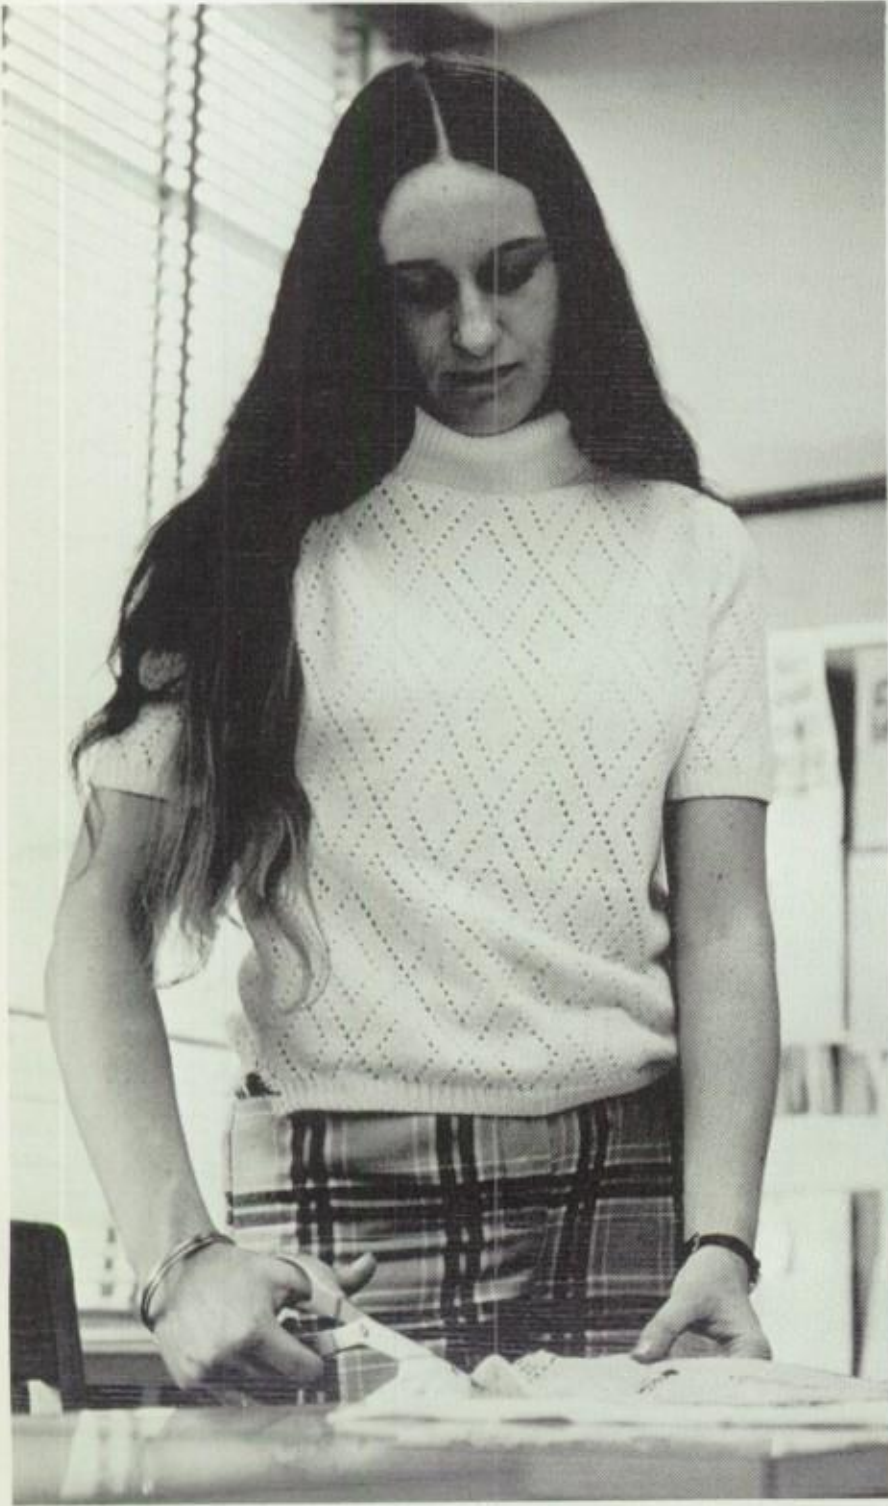

Students chose from seven courses to satisfy a new state requirement in consumer education. The Business Department proposed for next year a course entitled consumer education, designed to satisfy this new requirement. Possibly because of the requirement, the business classes' enrollment increased to cause overcrowding. Department head Mr. E. Ludwig stated, "Our classes are overcrowded for the type of instruction around which we like to build our courses." The notetaking class switched from a year minor course to a semester major. Mr. Ludwig said, "Because of the skills we try to develop in taking notes, it would be better to have the students on a day to day basis rather than every other day." The class employed the ABC Shorthand Writing System.

Home Economics Classes Undergo Minimal Change

This year the Home Economics Department remained about the same as last year. The department enrolled approximately the same amount of students. The ratio of girls to boys enrolled in the department remained stable as well. All but one of the teachers remained in the faculty. Mrs. N. Bavisotto temporarily left the department on a maternity leave. The department made its periodic purchase of replacement items such as washers, driers, and sewing machines to ensure maximum performance during the year. Mr. E. Ludwig, Practical Arts Division head, reasoned, "We made no other changes because we were satisfied with the materials that were used last year."

Industrial Arts Prepares Students for Vocations

By adding courses in architectural rendering and modelbuilding, cooperative education, and vocational food service, the Industrial Arts curriculum expanded. Morton East previously offered vocational food service, but this marked the first year that West has offered it. Students, however, took the two-hour course at the East building. Mr. J. Hamilton, teacher of architectural rendering and modelbuilding, claimed that the class's aim was "to help students to prepare for the career of their choice from architecture to carpentry." In cooperative education, students took jobs related to the course. The students split their school day between school work and on-the-job training. The department purchased an offset press for use in the graphic arts program.

Physical Education Staff Makes 'Trade' with East

Morton West's Physical Education Department made an interesting "trade" this past year. When Mr. R. Vashinko assumed the position of Morton East's varsity football coach, Mr. J. Breck of East came to the West faculty.

Boys' gym classes continued the use of the junior-senior elective system. The freshman and sophomore classes followed the activity schedule used in recent years. Girls also followed the annual schedule of activities for freshman year. Sophomores, juniors, and seniors chose from specialized classes in lifesaving, advanced swimming, modern dance, and leadership or took regular gym. The department organized adaptive gym classes for those who were unable to engage in normal gym activities.

Board Reviews, Updates Morton School Policies

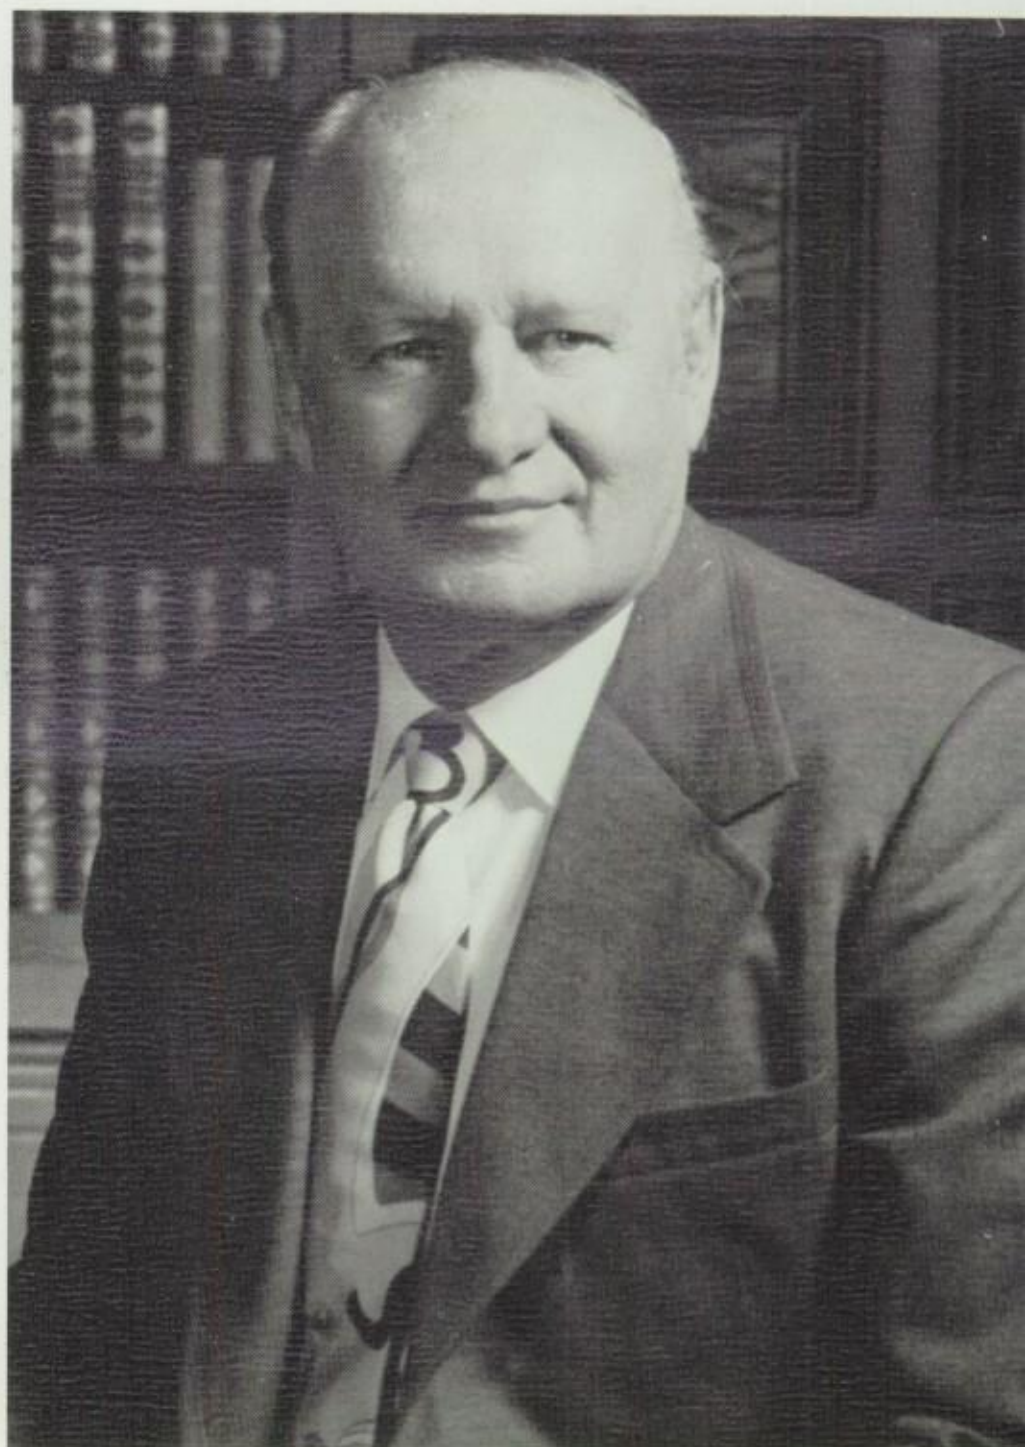

Reviewing and updating policies was the main concern of the Board of Education. One example was the set of policies concerning community involvement in the schools, particularly in relation to the school's educational goals. They also approved a proposal to be submitted to the Illinois Dangerous Drugs Commission for a grant to secure the services of a youth worker to divide his time between Morton East and West and cooperate with Youth in Crisis in the counseling of drug referrals. The board worked over many other concerns and activities of the school with Dr. J. Ondrus and Mr. K. Keeling, the superintendent and business manager of the Morton East and West High Schools.

In addition to his duties on the school board, Mr. A. D'Andrea (above, right) spends much time at his store.

At the graduation ceremonies held last June, Dr. J. Ondrus (above) addresses a speech to departing seniors.

Dr. Hutchison Organizes Student, Staff Program

Dr. W. Hutchison took the task of coordinating the year's activities for students, faculty, and staff. He also worked with the director of public relations, Mr. R. J. Tudor, and the division heads to obtain educational programs suited to the students' needs. Dr. Hutchison stated, "My main goal is to provide leadership for new directions we should move in. One major difficulty is maintaining a level of instruction in spite of inflation."

Morton's courses were studied for possible changes and additions by the Educational Council, headed by Dr. H. I. Below. She was also responsible for developing goals and objectives throughout the curriculum.

Dr. H. Below (above, left) discusses the possible addition of a proposed class to the English program with one of the teachers.

Morton's Deans Initiate New Tardiness Program

This year, the deans adopted a new policy on tardiness and truancy. They dropped the system of detentions because they felt it wasn't accomplishing their main goals. The new policy gives more responsibility to the student and his parents. It differs from the old system in that the student is warned that the sixth time that he is tardy for a class, he will be suspended and a conference with his parents will be necessary. The fourth time a student is truant, he will drop the course with a failing grade. The deans commented, "We are trying to prepare the students for adult life. We feel they should be able to accept responsibility and also the results of it."

Maintenance Staff Aids In School's Improvement

Morton's school services aided the students and faculty greatly. Mr. R. Hoffmann of the supply store and Mr. H. Olmstead of the textbook library supplied materials necessary for classes. The medical staff gave medical attention to ill students and also administered physical examinations. The cafeteria staff prepared warm, well-balanced meals and also provided snacks. The secretarial staff aided the administration and division heads in their daily paper work. The maintenance crew kept the building clean and in repair. Additional projects for the maintenance staff included painting many of the classrooms, building a new stairway, and adding fire doors throughout the school.

C LASSES: the various people forming Morton's student body. Accenting the individuality of each member while stressing the importance of working together, the four classes merge to build and strengthen Our Spot.

Seniors Give Literary Works to Egg

Oil and grease covered Mike Capitan (left) prepares to remove some dirt from the motor of the car on which he is working. Auto mechanics is a course popular among senior boys.

Working on the production of the Egg, Morton West's revived literary magazine, Julie Plesha (above) consults advisor Mrs. J. L. Morel about a work being considered for the publication.

Using a calculator to aid him, Scott Stanley (right) completes a job in his accounting class. Business education courses can be worthwhile for seniors who are planning ahead for a career.

Using time in English, Elaine Schumacher (below) discusses the assigned reading with Greg Slawko. Elaine was chosen as one of the winners of the 1974 NCTE Achievement Award in writing.

Patrick Shanahan Performs as Motel in Fiddler

Chewing on his glasses, Roger Wielgos (above) uses a reference book from the Morton West library. Many teachers require that outside sources be used to give the student a more complete understanding of the subject.

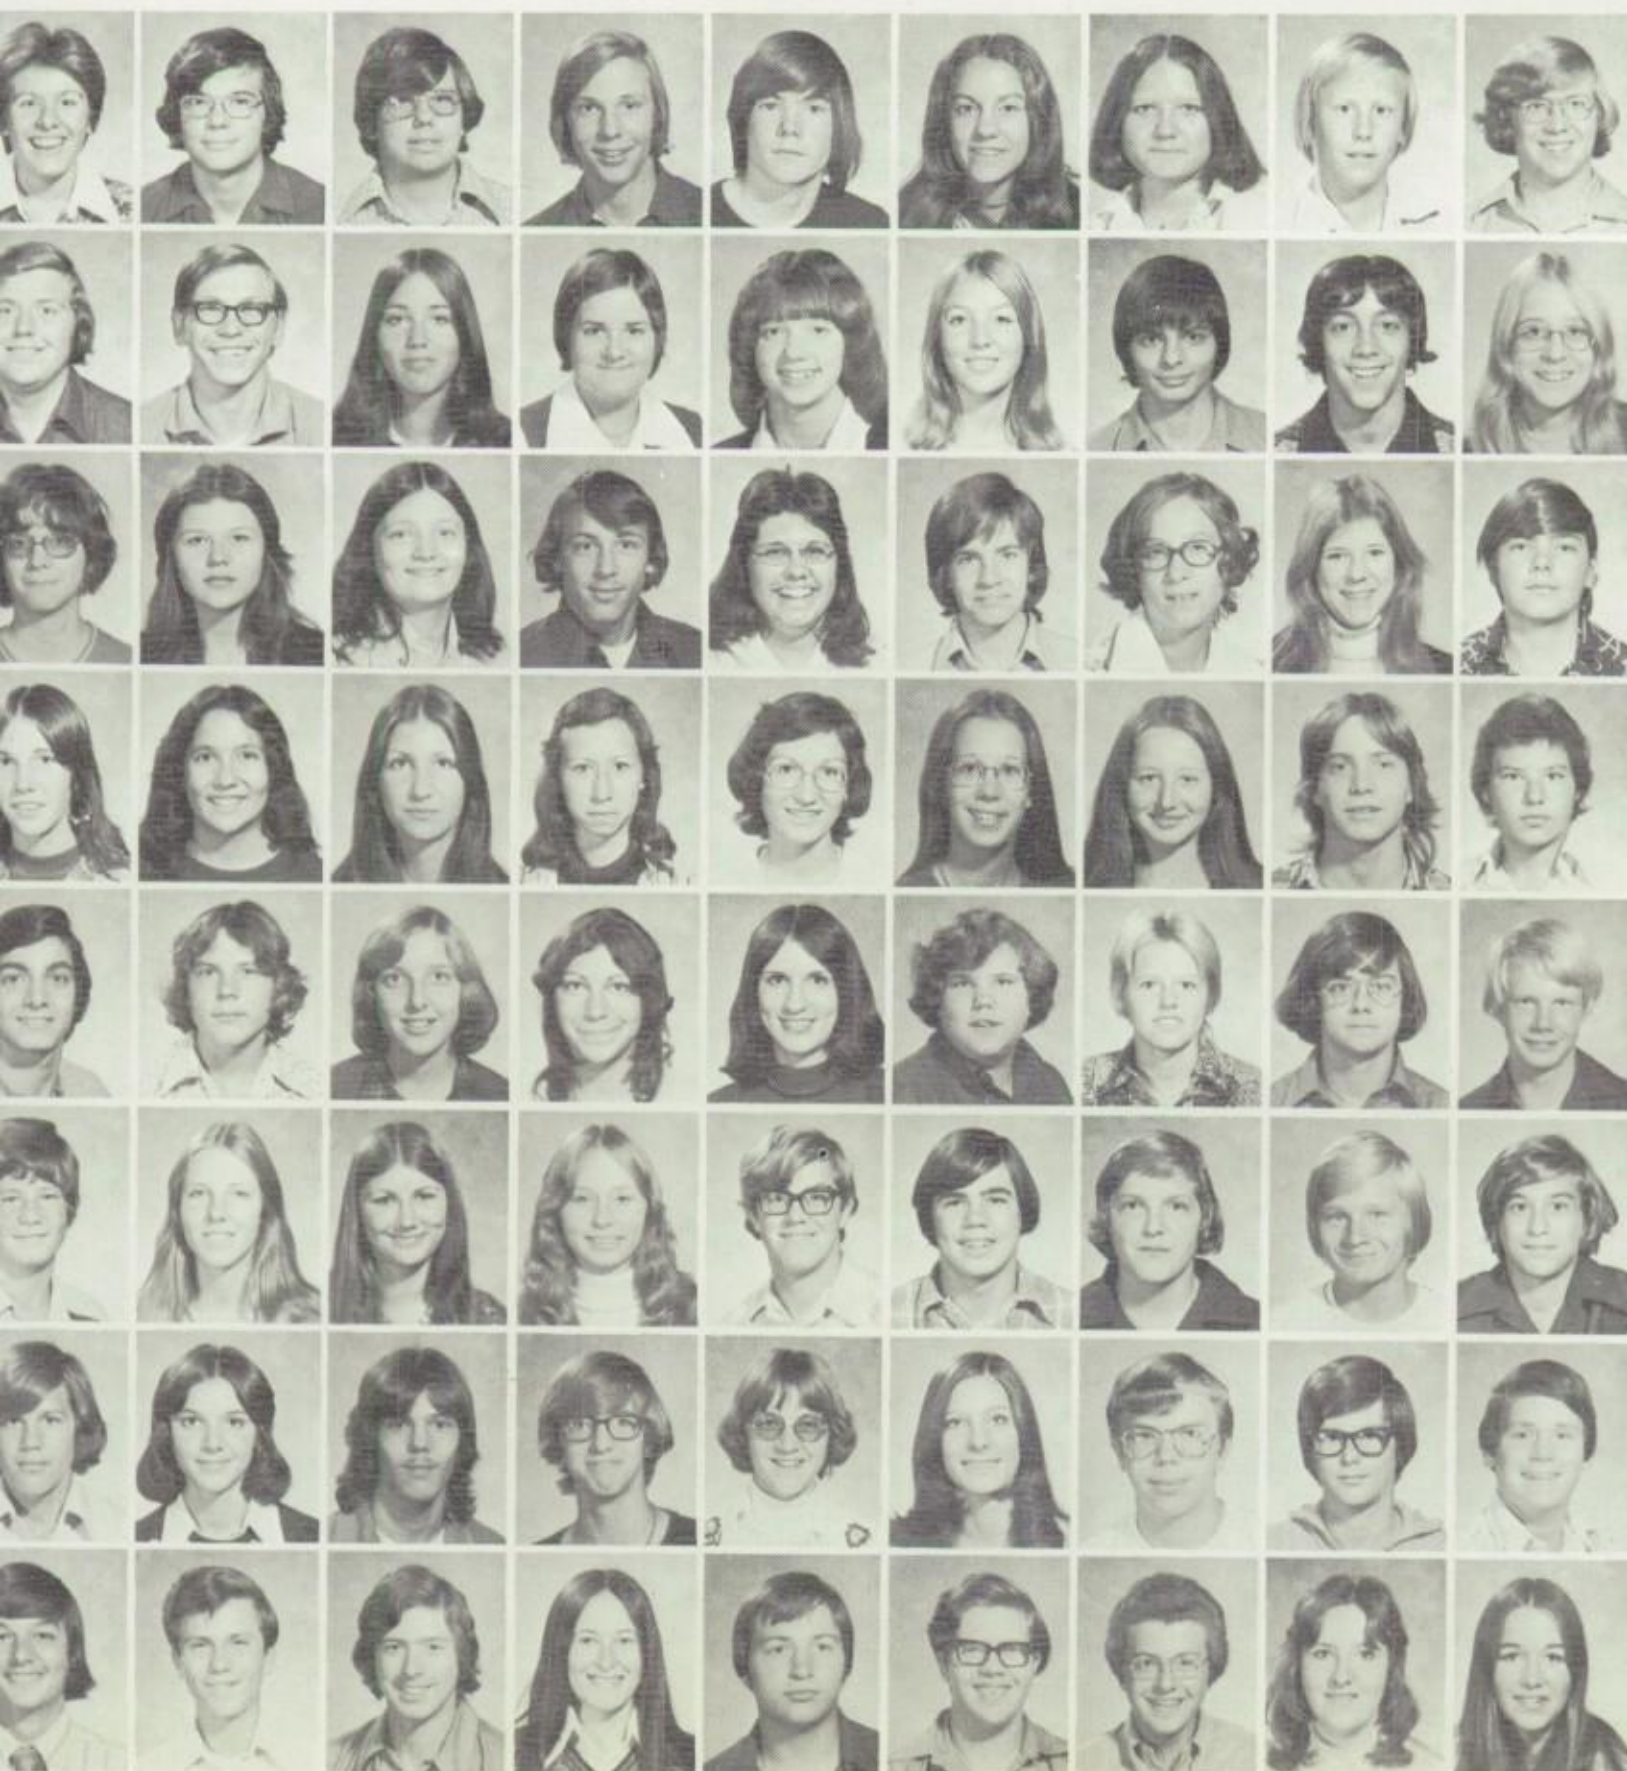

In one of the lead roles of the fall musical, Fiddler on the Roof, Pat Shanahan (right) as Motel Kamzoil discusses with Tzeitel, senior Elaine Schumacher, how to ask her father, Tevye, for her hand in marriage.

Because an explanation in his biology lab captures his interest, Alex Culafic (left) concentrates on the teacher's demonstration of a workbook experiment.

As she points out an error that she's found on the blackboard, Audrey Cherney (below) shows that she has been alert to what is happening in her typing class.

In the morning before school in the main office, Barb Kmet (top, right) passes out announcements to the teachers' mailboxes. This is one of the many duties performed by various aids.

To make sure that she has followed her drafting teacher's instructions, Karen Kozak (left) looks over her graphs and drawings to insure that she is completing the job correctly.

As her lab partner looks on, Kathy Dahms (above) squeamishly measures the grasshopper that she is preparing to dissect. The biology classes also dissect such specimens as frogs and crayfish.

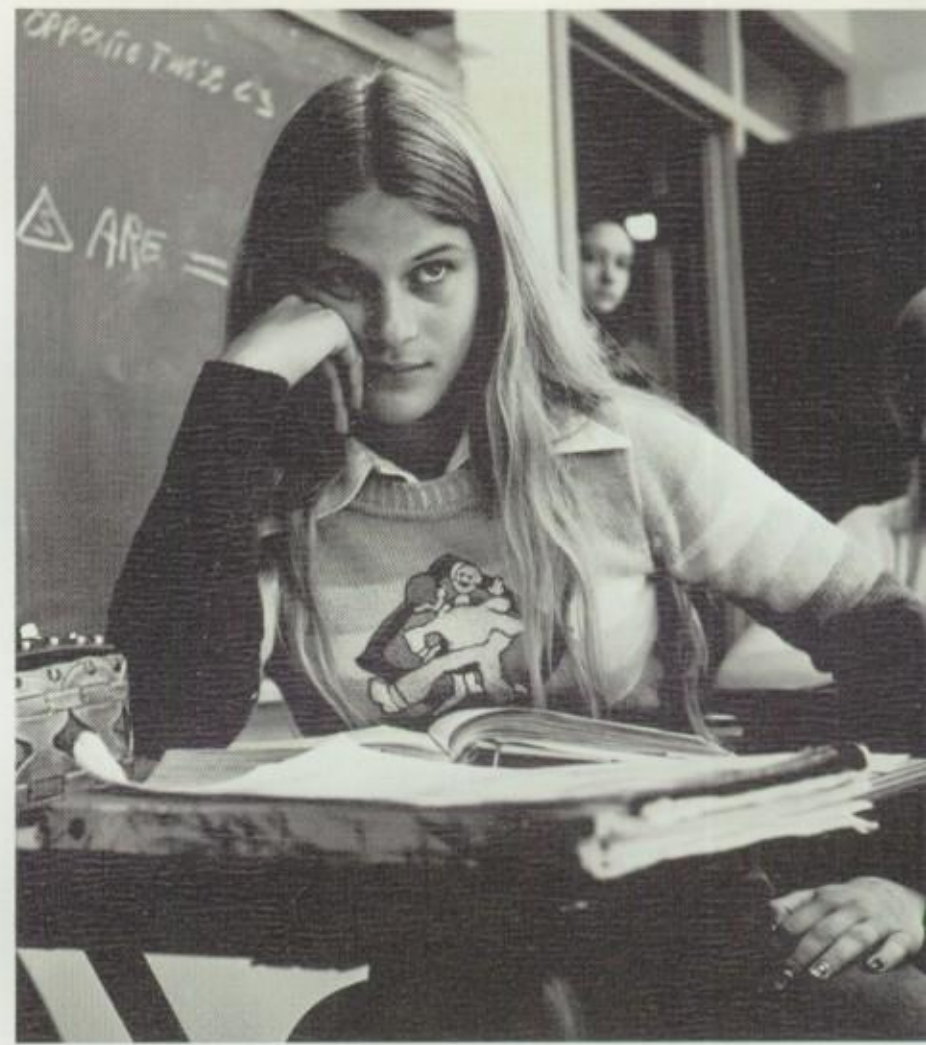

FRESHMEN: enthusiastic, inexperienced students making up the youngest class at Morton West. Combining fresh, new ideas and a touch of hesitancy, this year's freshman class becomes a part of Our Spot.

New Ideas for TALON As West Meets 'East'

At their summer workshop in Eau Claire, Wisconsin, four editors exchanged yearbooking ideas with many other schools including Morton East. Other editors met with some eastern techniques in Norfolk, Virginia. Mr. R. C. Hegner, adviser, welcomed new concepts from these workshops in keeping with the times. With the onset of girls' sports in addition to new sports, some sport related clubs were added to enlarge the activities section. The student life section expanded in coverage by its inclusion of students' activities off campus. Student photographers proved to be extremely valuable in capturing pictures of Morton West students involved in the world around them.

At one of the yearbook's several worknights, Nina Halaska (left), TALON staff member, pauses to check her accuracy in typing the copy for an editor's approval.

While tightening the flash bracket attachment on her camera, Falcon photographer Linda Budzichowski (right) decides what to photograph next at the annual Junior Olympics program sponsored by the M.W.S.C.

Learning to make photography a rewarding experience, Bob Wade and Steve Hrbek (below) utilize the photo lab's new dry mount press in completing a picture which they plan to sell at a Latent Image Club sale.

Literary Magazine Staff Hatches the New 'Egg'

After nine years, Morton's literary magazine was revived. The staff members entitled the booklet The Egg. It consisted of the finest creative works submitted by students.

In order to extend their usual program, the Latent Image Photo Club took field trips and exchanged photography shows with neighboring high schools. They also attempted to move photography more into the field of art.

Falcon staff won the highest awards from the International Honor Rating for Newspapers of Superior Achievements given by the Quill and Scroll Association. Mr. J. Stebbins explained, "The awards indicated the pride and responsibility which the staff displayed."

MWSC Introduces New Carnival, Winter Dance

Morton West Student Council consisted of four class cabinets, a social activities committee, and forty representatives. The members worked together in community activities such as river clean-ups, crusades for charity organizations, and attempts to fix up community hazards. Traditional activities sponsored by MWSC were homecoming, turnabout dance, phoney express, Junior Olympics, concerts, and playnights. They also introduced the Snowball, a "stag" Christmas dance, and a carnival wherein all clubs and organizations were invited to participate in setting up their own booths and subsequently keeping all profits for their club's activities and projects.

Recycling Paper, Ecology Club Creates Stationery

Membership of the Ecology Club increased again, and the members were very enthusiastic about their conservation program. From recycled paper, the members made their own stationery and sold it to the entire school.

To acquire some knowledge in the health field, many students joined the Medical Careers Club. The club participated in a national voluntary service through the Red Cross Youth Organization by making toys for orphanages.

Giving their services to the school library was the job of the Library Aids. Along with the usual duties, the aids had to understand the mechanics of tape decks, filmstrip projectors, and other related media equipment.

Culture Clubs Sponsor a Wide Area of Activities

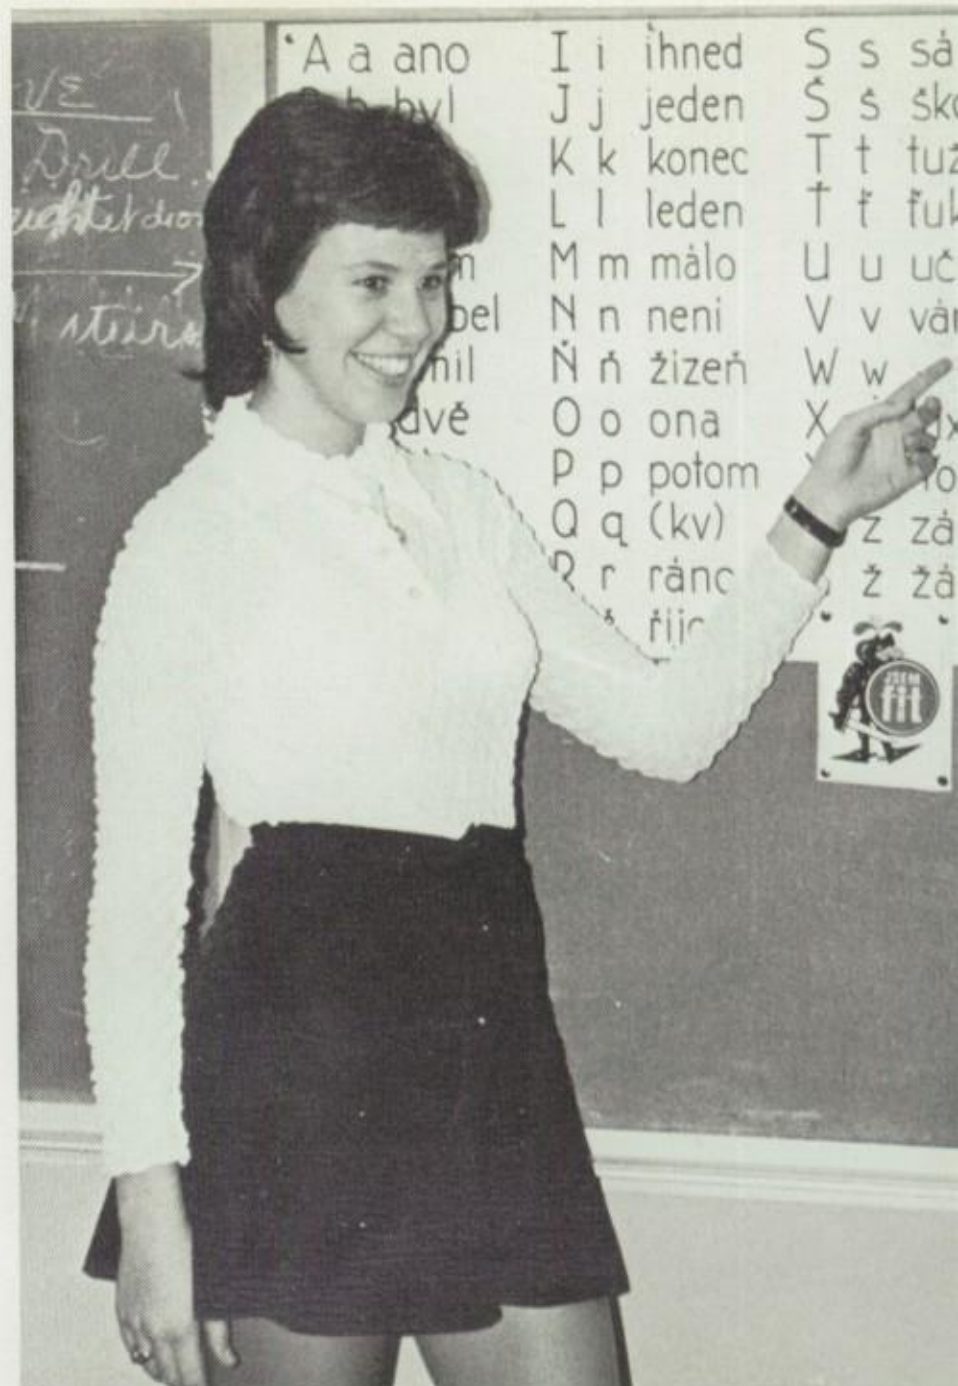

This year, in addition to their weekly meetings, the Czech Culture Club planned two community-centered field trips. In October they visited the Czech exhibition at the Lincoln Federal Savings and Loan Association, and in November they went to a folk fair. The club financed their activities with kolacky sales. The French Club celebrated French holidays in their traditional manner. Their fund raisers included a car wash, a splash party, and sales of candles, candy, and baked goods. They displayed some of their French culture and customs to the four other language clubs when they sponsored the annual Halloween, Christmas, Mardi Gras, and Easter parties with their sales profits.

Italian Club Reorganizes, Produces Fashion Show

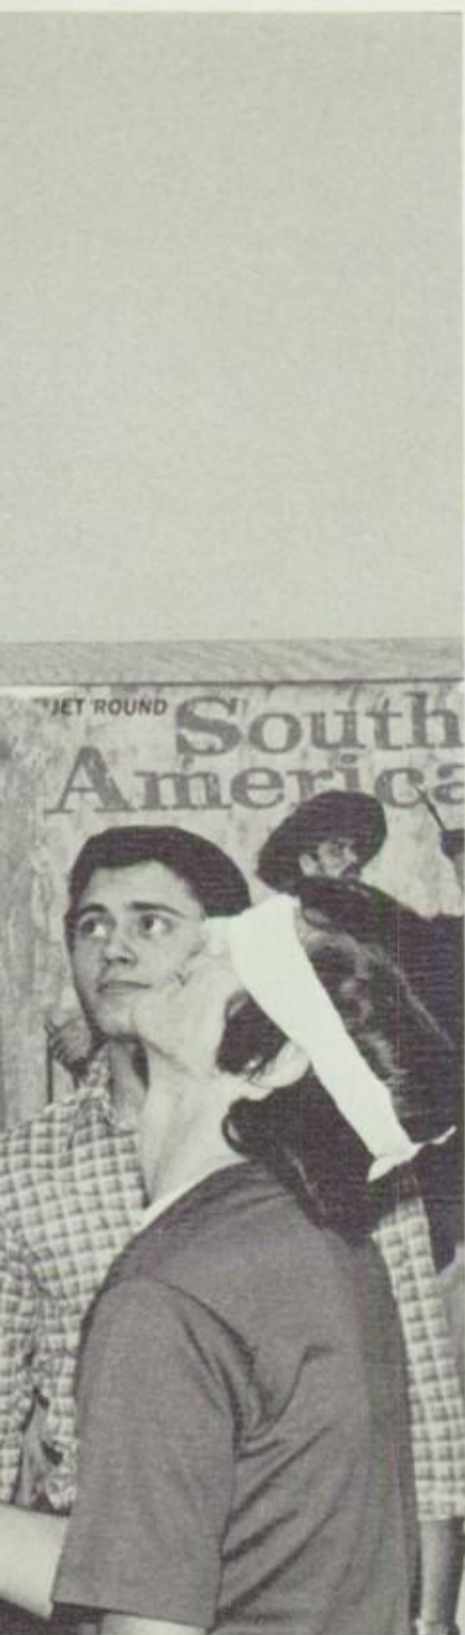

Reappearing at this year's homecoming coronation were the "munchkins" of the German Club. The club also celebrated the traditional "fests": Oktoberfest, Faschingfest, and Maifest. Enthusiastic students thought it worthwhile to bring the Italian Club into existence again. To publicize their club, they displayed Italian cartoons in the foyer as "Contemporary Italian Humor." Members sold orange carnations at Halloween time and highlighted their year with an Italian fashion show. Another club concerned with cultural customs was the Spanish Club. Their sources of income were flower sales and car washes. Money collected was spent on a dinner at the end of the school year.

As Lynn Taus comments, Gabriel David and Mr. J. Zupsich (above) perform a German dance for German Club.

Honor Society Supplies Team for 'It's Academic'

Junior Honor Society members distributed honor scroll cards, posted the deans' list, and guided freshman mothers at the PTO tea. Members of the Senior Honor Society named a junior girl and boy as having outstanding qualities. The members also sponsored a team for the "It's Academic" TV show wherein Morton competed with two other schools.

Thespian members acted and directed shows for various English classes and community organizations which included local hospitals. The Tech Guild was concerned with all aspects of backstaging: lighting, make-up, and props. Students had to work a minimum of 150 hours backstage to become members.

Last year's spring contest play was Royal Hunt of the Sun by Peter Schaffer. The play took first in district and sectional competition and sixth in state competition. This was the first time either Morton school advanced to the state finals. The play was directed by Mr. F. Meyer, who also directed the fall musical, Fiddler on the Roof. The cast and crew performed outstandingly to make the well known musical a big success. Two other groups connected with the Drama Department were the forensics team and the Readers' Theatre. Music Students Organize New, Active Music Club

Some concerned music students settled the controversy of their department's entering a float in the homecoming parade by forming the Morton Music Club. The club's members proved to be active in their rookie year by having bake sales and sponsoring concerts and trips. The band presented a program at MacNeal Hospital and continued its regular school performances. "Our program is governed by what the school plans as in sport assemblies. Their program hasn't changed so ours hasn't," reasoned Mr. J. Frantik, band director. Mr. R. Dvorak stated that this year was expected to be the last year of a one orchestra program because of an increase in enrollment of students.

After many long weeks of practice, the Morton West Jazz Band (above, left) premieres in their first school concert of the year by playing a collection of familiar tunes from the forties, fifties, and sixties.

All Choral Groups Enjoy Singing for 'Full House'

Morton's Choral Department enjoyed a "standing room only" crowd at the annual Christmas concert. The choral members banded into a mass chorus to conclude the program by performing "Christmas Tide," a collection of popular Christmas carols. Choral director Mr. J. Chiado chose "Let There Be Peace on Earth" to be the final number. The Aeolian Choir learned a bit of Latin in singing "Magnificat." The Girls' Choir spent their time learning a medley of songs from The Nutcracker. The Belles and Beaus visited many civic organizations to provide their meetings with some musical entertainment. The group also caroled in front of many stores at the Cermak Plaza.

Service Projects Involve Both Booster, M Clubs

According to Adviser D. Matheny, the M Club is a service organization that helps the school and community. This year the lettermen assisted the Lions Club in the "Save Our Sight" program along with their usual ushering and program selling at home games. Freshman and junior divisions were added to the club.

Booster Club, consisting of seventy girls, was another active service organization. They sold refreshments at football and basketball games, guided parents at Open House, assisted at college and awards' nights, and served food at the annual football banquet. For the first time, the girls socialized as a group by holding roller skating and bowling parties.

Modern Dancers Create With Music, Other Arts

Besides conveying emotions through the use of music, Modern Dance Club members used forms of art, posters, and poems in putting their creativity to work. The club members composed a modern dance show and held a "dance day" on which a professional dancer lectured and demonstrated many new dance techniques and forms for the dance-minded students.

Developing skills in floor exercises, tumbling, and apparatus was the objective of the Gymnastics Club supervised by Ms. F. Hartley. The club members performed for parents at the PTO night in October. They also planned two clinics and held a summer session to make gymnastics a year round activity.

Baton Twirlers Perform During Wrestling Meets

Members of the Baton Twirling Club participated in a week long workshop last summer. In the autumn they prepared dance routines for the homecoming queen coronation and parade. During the winter months for the first time, they performed at each home wrestling meet.

GAA once again was open to all Morton girls who were interested in sport competition on an intramural basis. Track, bowling, volleyball, apparatus, basketball, touch football, and badminton made up a program which lasted throughout the three seasons of the school year. Outstanding teams and individuals received awards at special GAA banquets. Bake sales provided the funds for these occasions.

Prices Rise as Inflation Hits Ski Club Members

With inflation ever-present, the Ski Club watched the prices of ski rental and lift tickets rise. Membership dues also increased in order to cover the higher insurance rates for the advisers. Yet seven trips materialized between the months of December and March.

Emphasizing grace and not speed was the purpose of the Swim Club. In order to be accepted into the club, students had to swim one pool length of each stroke and perform both vertical and surface dives. The first few months of work concentrated on endurance and stunts. Then work for the yearly swim show which was held in April began. Costumes for the show were provided by the members themselves.

West Beats East with An Enthusiastic Victory

Working hard and enthusiastically, the varsity football team started the year with the 16-0 defeat of Morton East. Their good performance showed in the team's record, which was six wins and three losses. Their record put them in a third place tie in the DPVL. Sophomore John Svetich performed capably as quarterback when Phil Colonero was injured.

Compared to the varsity team, the JV team had a very poor season. They could never get a good offensive game going. Consisting mostly of sophomores, they played teams made up of juniors. The extra year's experience on the opponent's side was instrumental in our team's record of one win and seven losses.

Undefeated First Place For Freshman 'B' Team

Morton's first sophomore football team in two years had a very unfortunate season. They finished with one win and four losses in conference play which placed them fifth in the Des Plaines Valley League. The sophomores kept up a high spirit and a hard working attitude all year in spite of the poor record.

West's two freshman football teams finished on opposite ends of the standings. 'A' team completed conference play with one win and six losses to finish eighth in the district. 'B' team finished first in the Des Plaines Valley League with six wins, no losses, and one tie. A strong defense which gave up only three touchdowns was the team's backbone.

Soccer Teams Complete First Year Competition

Morton West's first varsity soccer team was on a trial basis this year and was not in the Des Plaines Valley League. The team finished the season with a record of eight wins and six losses. The valuable players included Stan Mansik, a good scorer, and co-captains of the soccer men Jerry Enright and Valdis Bole.

Disappointed with the lack of fans, the sophomore soccermen still played a very good year. They finished the season with a record of ten wins, five losses, and one tie. Their outstanding player, Joe Svec, was one of the top scorers at his level in the state. Frosh-Soph Coach R. E. Schick predicted a first place varsity soccer team within two years' time.

Cross-Country Runners Finish Well at Oak Park

Placing third in district competition, the varsity cross-country team finished a good year. The team's hard work paid off in a winning record of six wins and two losses. A highlight of the year was the Oak Park Invitational in which the team placed fifth out of twenty-five teams. Outstanding varsity runners were junior Bob Conner and senior Frank Donnelly. Finishing with two wins and six losses, the sophomores did not do as well as the varsity. When he was asked what they could have done to improve, Coach G. W. Busse replied, "Win more." The freshmen finished a fine season with five wins and one loss to show their great potential for future appearances on the upperclass teams.

Golfers Change Season From Spring to Autumn

Both the varsity and frosh-soph golf teams encountered difficulty in a new golf season which changed our teams' meets from the spring to the early fall. The varsity coached by Mr. D. L. Verdeyen, finished the season with one win and eight losses and placed seventh in the league. They also finished eleventh in the district meet. The outstanding player on the team was Tim Wesbey, who shot a 79 for the season's best game, took sixth place in the conference meet, and also had the team's best average. Finishing better than the varsity, the sophomores ended the season in fifth place with six wins and eleven losses. Dan Sawusch had the best average of the sophomores.

Berndt's Shooting Wins League's Scoring Crown

Varsity basketball made a good showing by ending the season in fourth place with eight wins and six losses. Their main attraction was Bill Berndt, who won the DPVL scoring championship when he outscored his nearest competitor by thirty-three points. Berndt, who lead the team with most points per game, got forty-four in Morton's last home game. He, of course, made the all-conference team. An outstanding junior was Valdis Bole, who won an honorable mention from the all-conference team. The junior varsity had an upsetting year with one win and thirteen losses to end in eighth place. Despite the disappointing season, the team managed to keep their spirits up.

While feeling the pressure of being double-teamed by his opponents, Joe Terrazzino (above) turns and looks to pass the ball to a teammate.

Aiming at the basket, Jim DeStefano (right) jumps so that he can shoot over his defenders and arch the ball toward the hoop.

Ever watchful for opponents, John Svetich (below) looks for a possible opening as he begins to bring the ball down the court.

Sophomores' New Coach Places Cagers in Fourth

Sophomore cagers finished a fine season this year. Under their new coach, Mr. W. Porter, the team's record was seven wins and five losses. This record put the sophomores in fourth place in conference play. Coach Porter stated that his goal was to help the team's offense and defense by using new techniques. The two freshman teams finished at opposite ends of the standings. Freshman 'A' team completed their season in seventh place with four wins and eight losses. On the other hand the frosh 'B' team ended with nine wins and three losses to put them in second place. Both teams, however, learned the same fundamental techniques of basketball defense and offense in their daily drills.

Getting past his opponents, Alex Voitovich (left) drives for the hoop and lays up the ball for two points.

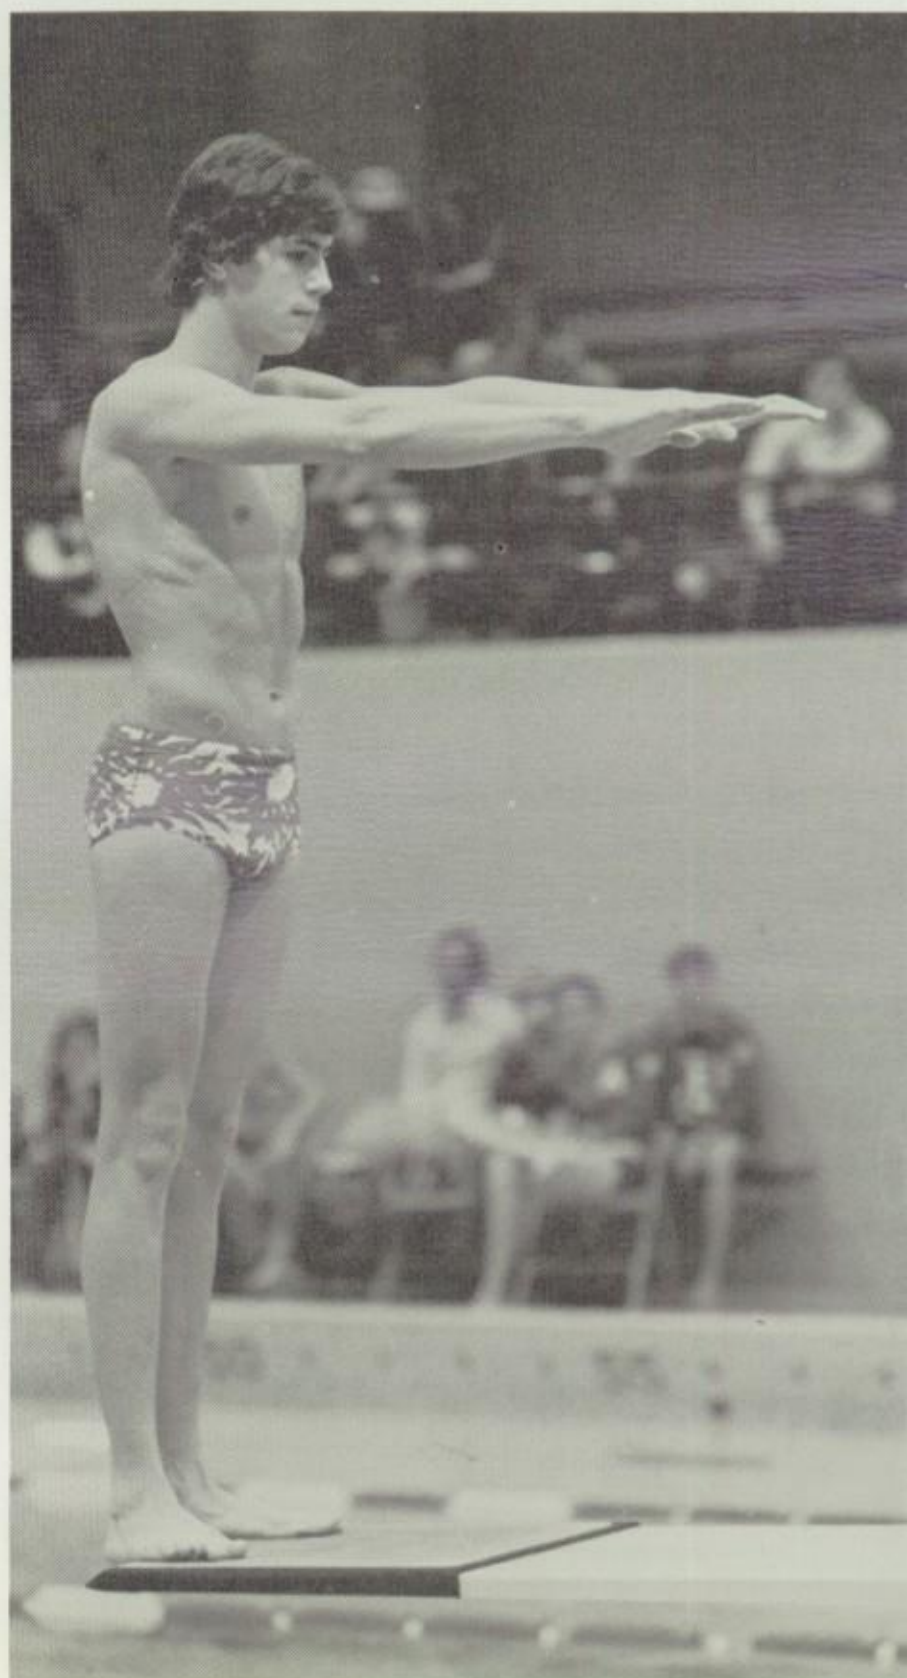

While attempting to pass it to a teammate, Joe Stacho (above) keeps his opponent well away from the ball.

Preparing for his back dive before the judges at a home meet, Mike Martin (below, right) strives for total concentration for his dive's execution.

Swim Team Sends Two To Dive in State Meet

Finishing another good season, the varsity swim team had six wins and four losses. An outstanding meet was the Morton East Invitational; West placed first out of six schools.

Keeping up a tradition of good divers, the swim team sent two boys to the IHSA State Meet, Dave Muth, who placed third at the district meet, and Mike Martin, who placed fourth in the district and was the first freshman ever to go to a state meet. While the sophomore team finished the season with seven wins and three losses, the freshman swimmers were DPVL champions. With an overall record of nine wins and two losses, the team was undefeated in their impressive league endeavor.

During a freestyle event, Mike Nekolny (left) comes up for a breath of air as he fights to finish first.

Stretching for the lead in a relay race, George Lewandowski (below) dives off the block and into the pool.

Dolezal and Kuchan Win, Become District Champs

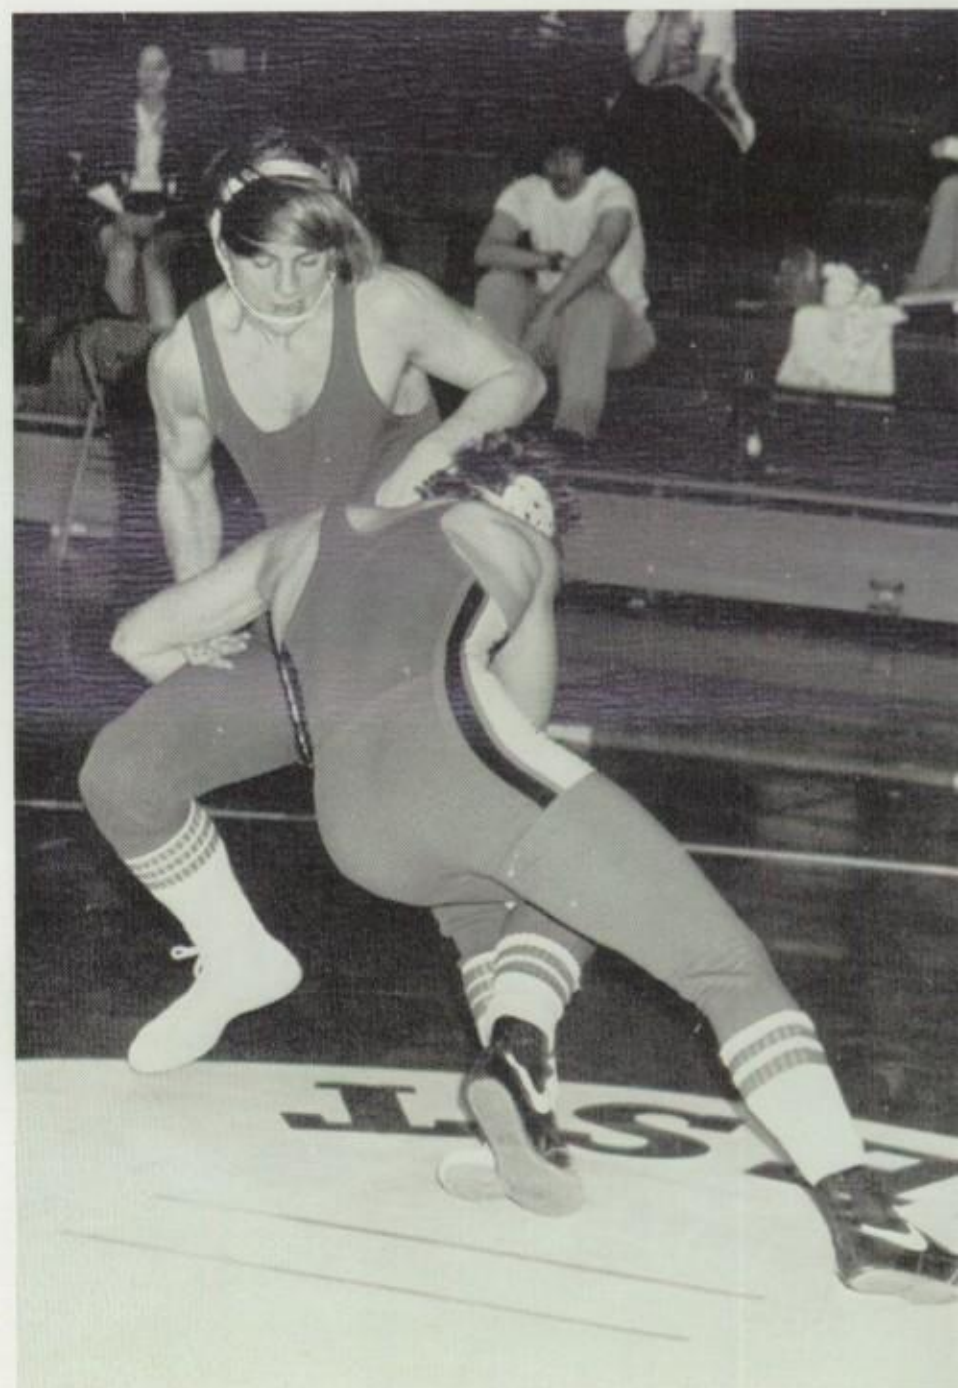

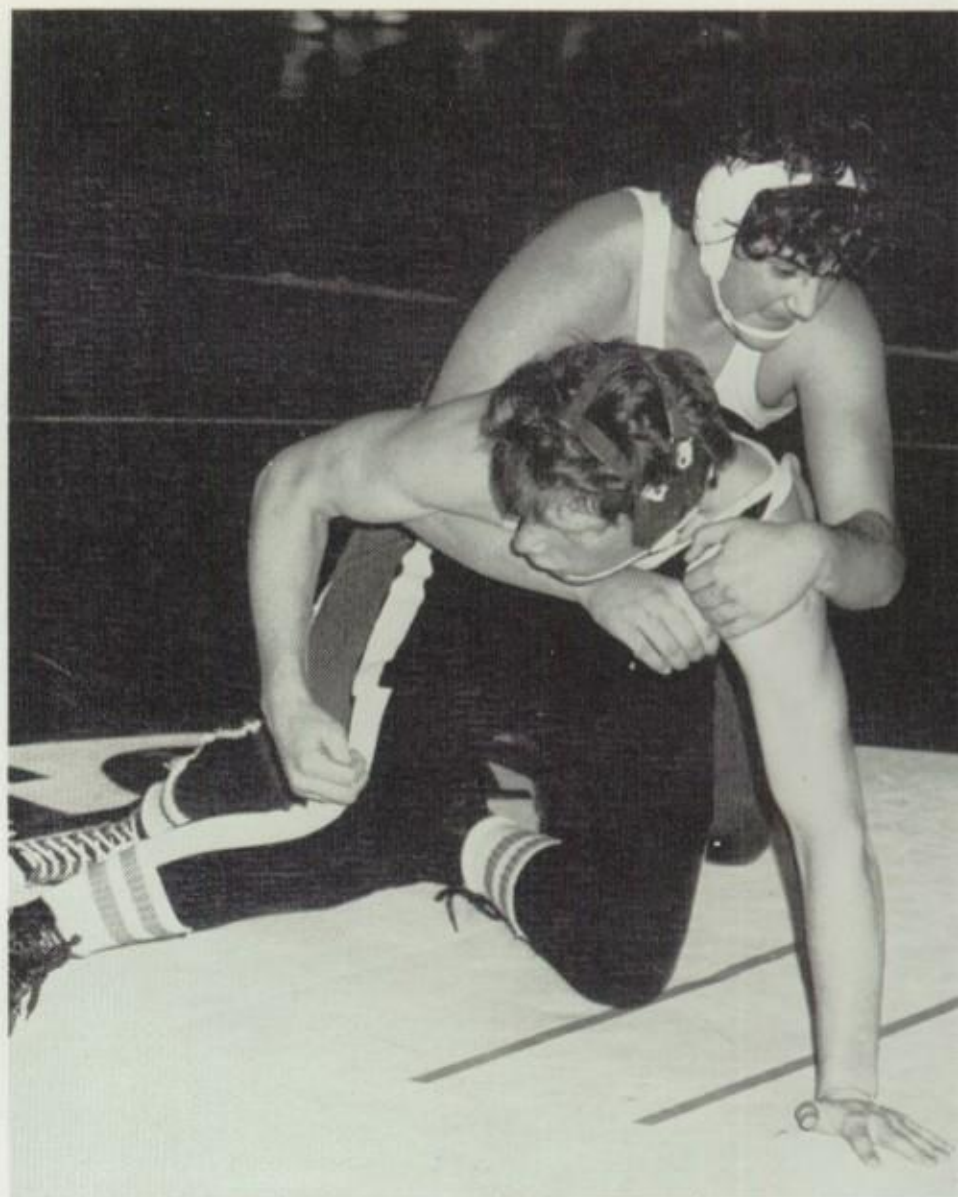

Varsity wrestling ended the season with one win and six losses in the DesPlaines Valley Conference. Two seniors, Bill Kuchan and Jim Dolezal, showed outstanding wrestling abilities by winning district championships. Although the junior varsity squad had a bad year, Mr. J. Polz, their new coach, says the team should have some feeling of success because of their preparation for the varsity. The sophomore team ended in second place with six wins and one loss. Showing great potential, Rich Stolz was named their most valuable wrestler. Under two new coaches, Mr. R. Kozurek and Mr. J. Evan, freshman grapplers finished with two wins and five losses to place low in the league.

FRESHMAN WRESTLING—FRONT ROW: H. Lev, M. Capparelli, M. Quinn, W. Noltemeyer. SECOND ROW: T. Keel, J. Junelt, T. Martin, P. Tucker. THIRD ROW: C. Arrigo, K. McLaren, T. Ruzicka, D. Miller, P. Hoping to add another win to his record, district champion Jim Dolezal (left) tries to outmaneuver his opponent. Moves like this kept Jim in contention all year and during districts to become champ.

Varsity Trackmen Show Strength in Field Events

Ending the year with ten wins and three losses, the varsity track team once again placed high in the Des Plaines Valley League competition. They had very strong field events but were somewhat weak in long distance running and hurdle events. Outstanding trackmen were Keith Lodding in the high jump, long jump, and triple jump and Bob Nordbye in the discus and shot put. The frosh-soph team did as well as the varsity. They finished with a record of nine wins and four losses, which placed them second in the conference. Coach G. W. Busse's well balanced team showed no weaknesses in track or field events. Many outstanding members contributed to the frosh-soph team's high finish.

Showing a lot of skill and determination, Javier Castillo (above) starts off the blocks in a relay race while fellow trackman, Bob Broz, lends a foot.

Displaying tremendous emotional and physical stress and strain of running the 100 yard dash, Dick Swade (right) throws himself at the tape in a victory success.

Three Varsity Members Place on All-Conference

Morton's varsity baseball team completed another season under Head Coach J. Kraus. In conference play the squad won nine and lost five to place third. Mr. Kraus felt inconsistency and inexperience were the key factors in their losses. Three players made the DPVL all-conference team: Phil Colonero, outfielder; Jeff Zitek, infielder; and Tim Feeney, pitcher. In their lowest finish in eleven years, the sophomores finished fourth. Lacking defense, the team lost many one run decisions and ended the season with seven wins and ten losses. Demonstrating good ability, the freshmen's conference record was ten wins and four losses. The team placed second in the Des Plaines Valley League.

Rounding third trying to stretch his hit, Glen Minarcik (right) pours it on as he heads for home.

Warming up before a game, Tim Feeney (below) comes out of his stretch ready to hurl the ball at the plate.

Stanley, Hora Win First In Second Doubles Play

Tennis at the varsity level fared fairly well last season. Four wins and three losses placed the team fourth in conference play. Scott Stanley and Jim Hora were the Des Plaines Valley League Conference second doubles champions. Three outstanding sophomore players, John Dismang, Jon Abrams, and Bill Bilun contributed to the varsity efforts. Coach C. Prazak hoped the rebuilding of lost talent from the 1972-73 championship squad would be completed by the end of the 1975 season. He used his frosh-soph team, which had a poor finish last spring placing low in conference standings with two wins and five losses, as a developing team for the upcoming seasons.

Following through with his swing, John Dismang (left) concentrates on the ball as he directs his service toward the opposite court at a home tennis match.

One of the varsity team's veteran first doubles players, Mike Kolb (above), returns a serve back to the opposite court with a strong forehand drive.

Girls' Bowling Team Has Impressive First Season

Morton's first year in girls' sports competition was a success. The girls' bowling team competed in a neighboring conference and finished high in the standings. The team consisted of ten girls divided into an A and B team who both earned five wins and one loss. The girls won in the district and advanced to state competition in Peoria. There they placed seventh out of two hundred schools. The enthusiasm shown at the announcement of girls' volleyball did not dwindle even though the team finished a disappointing season in sixth place. They did have two outstanding players in Mary Kordesh and Judy DeVito. Although the team record was poor, the first year of girls' tennis also had some high points. Pat Giannis and Cathy Chaberski displayed great winning ability at first and second singles spots in the line-up.

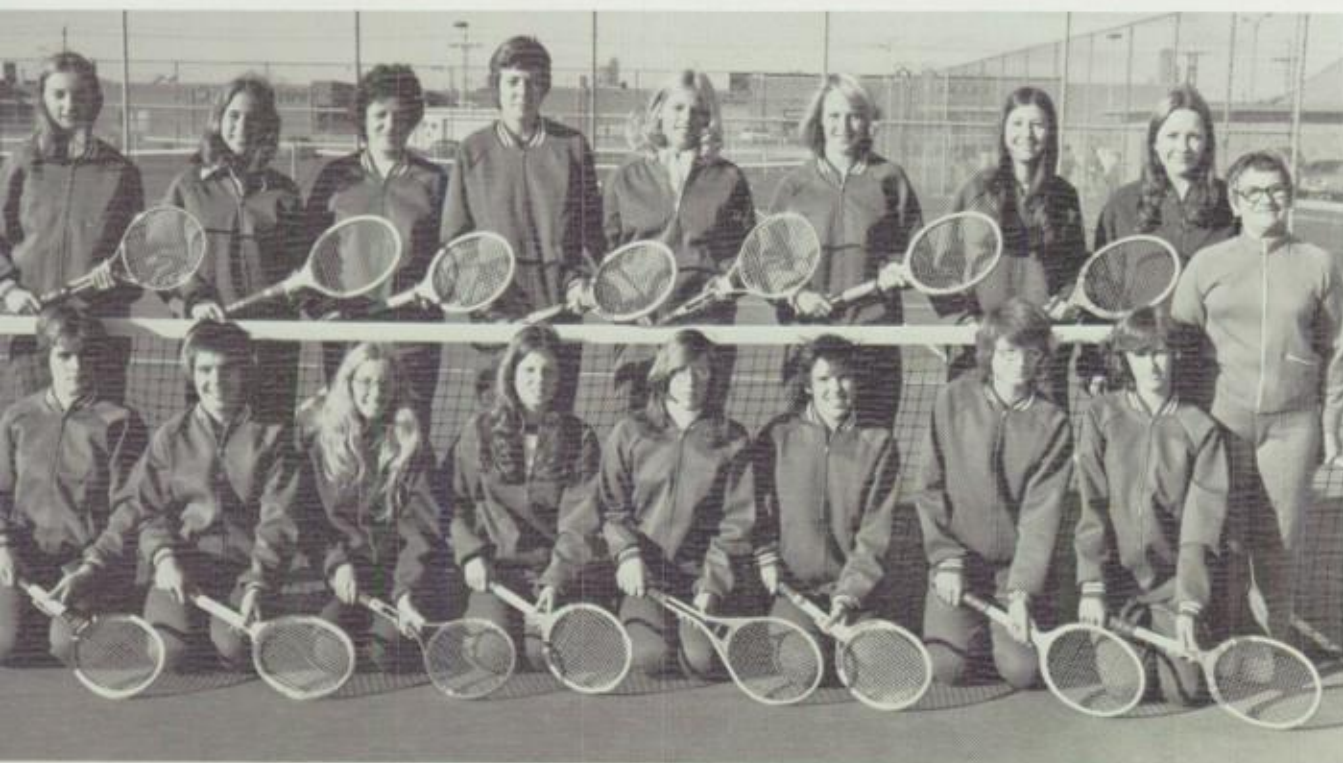

In order to get an effective spin on her serve, Cheryl White (right) concentrates on her follow through as she watches the ball leave her racquet head.

Displaying good form upon releasing the ball, Anne Appleyard (left) awaits her ball's contact with the pins.

Spiking the ball back at her opponents, Laura Saran (below) blunts any chance of their scoring a point.

Cheerleading Squads Work To Promote Spirit

For the second year in a row, the cheerleaders had two squads, one for the football season and one for the basketball season. There were separate tryouts for each squad. Adviser Mrs. L. Kulp and the girls promoted cheers and helped team spirits during the fall and winter games even though many times they lacked student body support. The girls practiced at least twice a week before every activity. Mrs. M. Trybus, the Pom Pon Girls' adviser, stressed cooperation and teamwork as the key to their new dance routines. To operate as a team and not as individuals, the group practiced three times a week to get their dances memorized for their half-time shows. However, Mrs. Trybus stated that the girls enjoyed their work when they proved that they could excel at something which they really liked.

Girls Assist at Meets As Aid Group Members

Girls who were interested in boys' sports as more than just spectators were those involved in one of the three aid groups. The Track Aids assisted the officials who conducted all indoor and outdoor track meets. They timed field events, recorded scores, and announced the results. This year the Track Aids participated in the homecoming parade by entering a car. At all the home swim meets, it was the Swim Maids' job to back up timers for the touch pads, to keep times and scores, and to post times. They raised money by selling candy, programs, and refreshments at all home meets. In addition to their usual responsibilities of keeping score and recording the results, the Wrestling Aids raised money for their wrestling banquet by getting students to sponsor a wrestler for each take down scored against an opponent.

IT WAS REALLY A PLEASURE GETTING TO KNOW YOU THIS YEAR. I CAN HOPEFULLY SAY THAT THOSE LOOKS AND THAT DYNAMIC PERSONALITY ARE GOING TO MAKE YOU SUCCESSFUL IN LIFE. HOPE YOUR SUMMER IS SPENT DOWN

TERESA

Concentrating on rewiring the electrical system, a workman labors to complete work on B-Hall stairs in order to meet new fire regulations.

With special strobe lighting effects, Mr. A. G. Grant (right) demonstrates the special mood created in a scene entitled "Acid Queen" from the rock opera Tommy.

In an assembly presenting views on modern American music and lifestyles, Performer Grant (below) models fashions similar to those worn by modern musicians.

During the homecoming parade Vicki Paganelli (left) appears to be marching to the sound of a different drum.

Common sights in a biology lab, dissecting trays and preserved specimens (below), await use in an experiment.

- Theresa*
We made it through another year! You're such a crazy person, I'm really glad we had study hall together next year. I wouldn't take care and have a terrific summer. You'll be back in the fall! So god bless ya, Phyl

Dear Theresa,
 Good Luck + @'m sure you had fun in Gessler's class. Have fun
 over the summer
 + take care
 Love ya

EARTH/SOLAR SYSTEM/UNIVERSE: an area which we have in common with all people as our home. Expanding to find that our limits are endless, we will explore the entire universe until it, too, becomes Our Spot.

neresa, e didn't see each other for a long time but then we got to house talking at Kitzbuhel still as nuts as ever. Have fun
 over the summer
 and if you ever need a dime, come to me. Sure,
 Carol

MIND OF GOD: an area that reaches out to touch everything everywhere. Even though its expanse is boundless, the Mind of God is in all of our lives and provides a haven to which we can retreat—Our Spot.

Terry,
It's been great knowin'
ya and havin'
ya in a class this year. We had a riot-and good huck in the future and have fun over the summer. Hope to see ya next year. Be Good and Take Care
Love

Dear Henry,

It has been a blast knowing you these past 3 years. & specially this year in lounge. No matter how sad a person is you can make them smile. Just laugh!
The sound of your laugh can make anyone laugh. I'll probably see you in the summer (poor me!) only kidding. Take care of all your lovers. I sure hope that we have a class together next year. Next year you are getting your picture in the Talon and don't forget. After all your picture was only in here once out of three possible times. Be good, take care, and keep smilin'

Love,
Debbie
Bent.

P.S. Look on Pages

Theresa,
 Have fun in future years
 play nice & cute.
 Hope I have you in some of my classes
 next year.

Love,
 Razemari
 Scumaci.

Ferry,
 Another year gone - can't believe I lasted 3 yrs. knowing you!
 You're really a weirdo, my kind of person!! The weirder we are, the more we can get on the job teaching, maybe we can you'll be to help out Steve Not a bad idea. attacking him always m.m. Right on!!
 See you over the summer
 sweetie!

Love,
 Carol

Theresa,
 Student Lounge was a lot of fun. Especially the engagement party. One thing I must say is thanks a lot for listening to me. I consider you a close friend of mine. See you next year and hopefully over the summer.
 Don't party too much. (749-4335)

 a blast. Next year's gonna be even better.
 Have fun over the summer.
 and be good. Keep in touch.

can you imagine how well we'll be next year? I think most of what is in trouble!

Peace, Love, + Happiness!

Dear Barbato,

you are the funniest, craziest, weirdest, nicest, sweetest, person I've met this year. In fact, you're the funniest, craziest, weirdest, nicest, sweetest person I know - besides me, that is! We had so much fun in student lounge! Remember all our BIG plans for our Christmas Party? Someday we're gonna get together and have that party, okay? Remember all our good discussions about Chico? And how about all those cut-down sessions - we had one everyday! And remember Marge ("What?") Dunne? Those were the days, kid. We will have to get together this summer and next year. Be good and have fun, (but be careful!) Who knows? They may even make the mistake of putting us in the same study hall again next year! Boy will they be sorry! If we were this bad this year,
